And No More War!

When, at last, you come to love war
It is then, you'll find that, of war
You and yours cannot be freed

As madmen lead us to accept war
And nations heed us to elect war
Then, to fear, we do accede

Learn, not seek to comprehend war
While demons howl at us, transcend war
That, into hell, we'll not proceed

Laws of mortals but extend war
Change of heart but will amend war
Living peace is what we need

Deploy your spirit, create, and rout war
Display your shield, and be without war
And all of good with us agreed
